Six rattling good bouts featured the min sur-Aube Saturday night, the main attra-Crane, of the M.P.'s, and Kid Silverma tion, a six-rounder, bringing on Battling Crane. of the M.P.'s, and Kid Silverman. of the 2nd Cavalry, and ending with honors even. This go was a ripper from the opening gong, with both boys swinging for the old K.O., and neither landing.

Silverman did the majority of the leading, but was held even by Crane's counter work. The big M.P. showed a lot of clever footwork, but was not able to offset the Cavalryman's aggressiveness. The men will more than likely be rematched at an early date for a ten-round bout.

The opening go brought on Kid Gibson. of Troop A, Headquarters Battallon, and Young Trabull, of the 53rd Pioncers. Gibson looked good in the gotaway stanza, but two right crosses to the jaw ended his carcer early in the second frame. It was curtains and slow music.

But the complex of the Engineers swapped punchess. Kelly was handed the decision after four nifty rounds, but if we canounced after the affair that Britt broke his hand in the first frame. Kelly was by far the cleaner boy of the two. Britt butting several times.

The third session saw the best looking boy of the evening step into the ring in Young Coldicion of the Sard Pioneer Infantry. Goldstein easily outpointed Young Jordan, of Troop C, Headquarters Zattalion, in a six-frame go.

A rather serious mishap broke up two bouts. Two Smith boys, Gumbout and Sammy, were booked from Chaumont, but their car ran afoul of a tree and turned turtle, injuring a couple of officers and causing Sammy Smith to like into Barsura and take a licking from Young Boss, and the lifth stanza.

Kid Williams and Young Morency staged a nice four-round exhibition scrap. Williams taking the honors without extending himself to any great extent.

Licut Thomas S. Brady, of the Engineers, refered the bouts and showed bouts were staged by the First Army Afficietic Association, with Prt. Sydney Isaacs as matchmaker and announcer. What Men Throw Up in the Air

Two men stood at an open window watching a mob before a newspaper bulletin-poard in the street.

"They've lost their heads!" com-mented one man.

"Look again, Reginald," said the other man, "so far as I can see they've only lost their hate."

The news on that bulletin-beard read, S'Germany Surrenders!" The men in that crowd were throwing their hats up in the air.

their hats up in the air.

You may think that mea don't value their headgear very highly, when they act this way. But men only throw their hats up in the air when something so big has happened that they have to show how great they feel.

They just have to do something they seldom do and be extravagant about it. Up go their hats.

A min needs some pretty big celebration as on excuse to be caught going around without his hat. He doem't
